Preface

Collectivization of primary producers, especially small and marginal farmers, into producer organisations is emerging as one of the most effective pathways to address various challenges of agriculture and most importantly, improved access to investments, technologies, quality inputs and markets. In this endeavour, both Central and State Governments have identified Farmer Producer Organisation (FPO) as the most appropriate institutional form and mechanism to mobilize farmers and build their capacity to collectively leverage their production and marketing strengths. Hence, several Development Departments, Organizations, Institutes and Civil Societies are engaged in promotion of Farmer Producer Organizations in Karnataka. About 350 FPO's are registered in Karnataka promoted by different organization. However, information about their location, registered Office, name of the FPO, promoting agency etc., is scattered. In this context, Centre of Excellence for Farmer Producer Organizations has made efforts to compile the information in the form of a handy communication directory on FPO's in Karnataka. The communication directory will serve as a ready reckoner for communication, to facilitate interactions and knowledge exchange with FPO's by Officers in Development Departments, policy makers, NGO functionaries, extension workers, CEO's of FPO's and others involved in promotion and strengthening of FPO's in Karnataka.
